

IFEM PEMSIG Newsletter May 2013

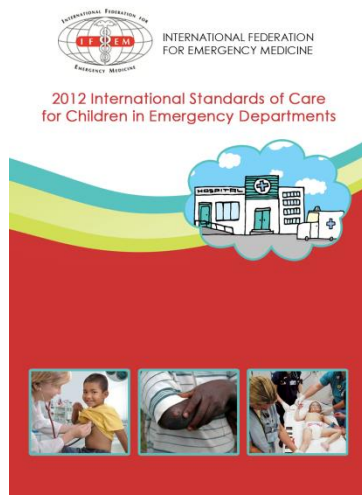

Hello fellow doctors,

Welcome to the first newsletter of the Paediatric Emergency Medicine Special Interest Group (PEMSIG) of the International Federation of Emergency Medicine, and a warm welcome to the Group.

The purpose of this group is to forge relationships and support between doctors from different countries to aid in the improvement of all children requiring emergency care.

For more information about our group, click here.

International Standards in Paediatric Emergency Care

In June 2012, IFEM launched a document which outlined what they felt to be a standard all countries to reach when providing paediatric emergency medicine. This was created by a working group from the UK, Israel, Australia, Singapore, South Africa, USA, and Singapore.

With the successful launch, we are now translating it into Spanish and Chinese to further distribute its content. Please keep a look out for the translated versions in the near future and don't forget to promote it in your part of the world.

New Members

So how does one become a member? It's actually quite easy. Just email IFEM and send your details, and you're in. You need to be interested in helping countries around the world with improving their paediatric emergency care, either through support, or through active teaching. There are many ways you can help. Probably the most important is to open communication lines and network. So, if you know of anyone who would like to join, please invite them.

ICEM 2014 – Hong Kong

Our first annual general meeting will be in Hong Kong next year. Please look out for more publicity and the website as it is developed. We hope to see you all there, so we can greet, eat, and be merry whilst sharing our passion for improving paediatric emergency medicine internationally.
